Design a Custom Investor Database - <http://investordatabases.com/Packages.htm>

My name is Richard Wilson. I have raised over $200M worth of assets while working as an independent capital raiser for investment funds which ranged from $30M long/short hedge funds to $80B investment banks. I realized while raising capital that you can sometimes spend more time trying to find contact details for prospects instead of developing relationships with them. This is why InvestorDatabases.com was built.

Our team of professionals have constructed hand-built, Excel based investor databases for investment fund managers, private corporations, and banks. Our databases may be used to raise capital, grow relationships, or development business partnerships. We know what to include within these contact detail databases because we have raised capital using such resources in the past. Visit InvestorDatabases.com to learn more.
